The Induro Value Advantage

Induro products are significantly lower priced than the competition. In many cases, savings can amount to 40% or more over other brands with comparable specifications. Ask your dealer for more information.

All Induro tripods come with a carrying bag, shoulder strap, optional spiked feet & tool kit.

Take Induro On Location

Induro carbon fiber tripods are light weight and easy to carry, and that makes them excellent choices for travel or location work. No matter what the terrain or the weather, they're designed to perform wherever you go.

Gnigami is the exclusive Canadian importer and distributor of Induro products.

Ultra-strong support gear that's also strong on value

INDURO™

High Performance Support Gear

Strong support, light weight and remarkable value – that’s what you’ll get from the Induro pro support gear.

Induro high quality professional tripods, monopods and ball heads are perfect for a wide range of professional applications.

- Up to 50% stronger – Designed to carry heavier loads. One carbon fiber tripod can support a wide range of cameras and lenses
- Light weight – Easy to carry. Take it on location or on holiday
- Flexible – 5-angle/position centre column (Alloyflex & Carbonflex tripods) adjust to a variety of shooting angles. And adjustable leg angles accommodate uneven terrain
- Durable – State-of-the-art materials & manufacturing technology; anti-dust and moisture grips keep out sand and moisture for long-lasting operation
- Full range of sizes and load weights – One’s right for you
- Lower priced than the competition – Up to 40% less in many cases
- Two groups of Induro pro tripods are available - Aluminum Alloy and Carbon Fiber

Flex provides a huge variety of shooting positions.

Induro Pro Tripods

The ultimate in light weight, fast action and value

Induro innovation has resulted in carbon fiber tripods and monopods that are much stronger than other carbon fiber brands. They’re made from 2nd generation carbon fiber technology that uses more layers of fiber and less epoxy. The result is an overall increase in support strength of up to 50%.

Induro aluminum alloy tripods and monopods offer remarkable strength as well. Made of aircraft grade aluminum alloy, they’re precisely machined to provide the quality and strength demanded by professional photographers.

Up to 50% stronger than the competition

CARBON & CARBONFLEX

Eight carbon layers for superior strength

ALLOY & ALLOYFLEX

Precisely machined for superb quality

The Unique Flex Advantage

Induro Flex tripods help position your camera for the most challenging situations. Both Induro Carbonflex and Alloyflex feature a unique vertical/horizontal centre column design for maximum flexibility and stability. The centre column can be easily converted from standard vertical column to a horizontal cross bar, providing a clear view without tripod legs in the way.

The Flex Advantage is ideal for low level shooting, macro photography, flat art, nature photography and avoiding obstructions on commercial shoots – any time you need an awkward position.

Introducing the Induro Adventure Series

Complete tripod, head and case kits. Completely affordable.

Induro Adventure Series Tripods are conveniently packaged as a tripod, head and carrying case kit. Made of durable magnesium and aluminum alloy, they feature quick lock legs, precisely matched interchangeable ball head, quick release plate and deluxe case with strap. Light weight, compact design and top value make Adventure a natural for travel and other photography.
